

Hello World,

June 10, 2020

I recognize, here and now, the Presence of the One Life and the One Mind. I breathe this energy in and connect with ALL THERE IS! I remind myself that It cannot be contained and yet it constructs, animates and moves all expressions of ITSELF. It is Love, Power and Light, unifying all aspects of ITSELF with infinite source energy and interconnected Consciousness in back of all of its manifestations, seen and unseen. It flows in and throughout all of creation, breathing, balancing, healing and speaking ITSELF into all individuals, all forms, animate and inanimate. There is no place where Spirit does not reside. It is in all structures, systems and stories that exist and the ones yet to be revealed.

I am one with this Consciousness and rest easy in the Truth of who and what I am. All my senses are in touch with and open to this flow of my Being, the Balance, Beauty, Clarity and Wisdom of my Infinite Nature. I am made up of the same stuff as oceans, stars and the cosmos. I am One with the Mind that connects all aspects of Life. I create with the Law as God and when I align with and surrender to this Love and Power, the Universe responds in kind. I embrace this KNOWING in this moment and need nothing more than this awareness.

I declare these words.... The Light of Love, Compassion, Understanding and Kindness is reflected in and amongst all people. Humanity is being lead through these tough challenges for a greater expression of New Ideas, new connections of people, resources and solutions. Actions and changes that are needed are fueled and supported by the Infinite well-spring of Mind with Love, creativity and Strength. Any discomfort, trauma or pain impeding this falls away into nothingness as the Light exposes and dissipates it and the Love heals it. New ways of looking at our world and the revealing of solutions easily and effortlessly flow! All needs are met. People are housed, fed, protected, and paid with decent, fair wages. All people are nurtured into their excellent health, wholeness and their beautiful, creative potential. This abundance of energy circulates throughout all of creation. Integrity and efficiency permeate the national voting system just as the Light shines onto the planet, so does it shine into all the systems of governance.

For all of this and more, I am grateful. I give thanks for this personal, national and planetary awakening that is occurring right here and right now! The perfect time is NOW!

These words are now released into the Law of Mind and I rest in calm, happy
